Webinar #4: Planning for a Week of Distance Learning
Wednesday, June 3, 2020

Dear MSEA Members,

Thank you so much for attending our Digital Learning Series #4! We enjoyed having you there.

MSEA is delighted to support your professional practice with this member benefit opportunity. We hope you will find the resource information relevant to your needs and the needs of your students. As promised, below are the links to support your professional practice. Feel free to view them at your convenience.

Register for upcoming webinars by viewing topics and dates on the MSEA Professional Development Calendar. Registration is required. For more information visit us at:

https://marylandeducators.org/msea-digital-learning-series-2020

https://www.marylandeducators.org/professional-development

SESSION DESCRIPTION:
Explore a few examples of what distance education might "look" like in K-12 classrooms from EdTech experts. We will also explore the transition thinking required that best supports student engagement and (hopefully) success.

VIEW SESSION RECORDING:
Video recordings from the Webinars can be accessed at these links.

WEBINAR SESSION LINKS
Click to download video

HANDOUTS:

The Google Slide Deck referenced below is property of NEA, MSEA and MEA. It is intended for personal use only; not intended for distribution or commercial use.

HANDOUT TITLE	LINKS
Planning for a Week of Distance Learning Google Slide Deck	bit.ly/MSEAweekplan

FEEDBACK: If you attended the LIVE session of this webinar, we welcome your feedback. We received a great deal of feedback while online and we are aiming for a 100% return rate. Thank you for your time in advanced. Please use this link: https://bit.ly/MSEAfeedback

MSEA MEMBERS COLLECTIVE DIGITAL TOOLS GALLERY-WE NEED YOUR ACTION!

As shared during our webinars, MSEA believes we have a lot of experts in the field. We want to hear from you. Please use this link HERE to add resources and recommendations you want to share with your peers. We hope to create an ongoing library that you can tap into. MSEA does not endorse any of these recommendations, so do your own due diligence research and vetting. Be sure you know your employer's rules for online engagement and follow them at all times. Note: You are responsible for knowing the rules to protect student privacy and data, particularly: Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) and Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

BEST PRACTICES SHARED BY COLLEAGUES ACROSS THE STATE VIA CHATBOX:
Remember to be patient and kind to yourself as you make changes and work towards your best fits for distance learning!

ATTENDEE FEEDBACK: Why you might want to listen to the webinar?
- Can't wait to use these documents!! I love planning.
- Thank you very much for all of this information!
- Thanks!
- Thanks so much for an informative presentation.
- Thank you
- Thank you for much for this presentation. It is helping me organize and clarify my process better.
- Thank you!
- Thank you very much!
- Thank you
- Thank you
- Thank you
- This was great! thank you for the info!!!

THANK YOU FOR BEING A MSEA MEMBER!