Fight for a Living Wage, Fairness, and Respect!

JULY 25-27, 2023 • MARITIME INSTITUTE • LINTHICUM, MD

FOUR NEW REASONS NOT TO MISS SLC2023

At SLC 2023 we're keeping it classic with a twist. Attendees will learn the skills they need to advocate for fairness in their job, no matter the title, and win contracts to match—that's classic. The twist? We're going hard for the endorsement—by every local union—of the Education Support Professional Bill of Rights. We'll do that through role plays and case studies, T(Ed) Talks, electives, and our annual solidarity action.

Solidarity in Action We're getting up close and personal as we take the fight for an ESP Bill of Rights to members' homes and worksites. "Solidarity is easy from afar. It's much harder and more uncomfortable up close and personal," said Keron Blair, past SLC presenter.

Changing it Up The pandemic taught us that there's no replacement for in-person connections! That's why this year's SLC is more centrally located, shorter (but with the same amount of time for learning!), and a bit later in the summer.

Get Inspired on Us MSEA's Board of Directors is providing scholarships for every local union to send three members to SLC. Scholarships cover food, housing, and conference registration fees.

Taking it Beyond SLC This year features an expanded Emerging Leaders Academy. ELA will launch graduates on the path to leadership and a critical follow-up with the SLC team in April 2024 will make sure these new leaders have the knowledge, support, and confidence they need to keep moving forward.
