MSEA's Women's Leadership
Training Program

Is It Your Turn to Lead?

Are you an MSEA member who identifies as a women/womxn? Are you interested in joining the exciting and diverse leaders making change happen in our schools, communities, and our union?

MSEA's Women's Leadership Training Program (WLTP) is a leadership and skill-building program for early career school educators and up-and-coming leaders interested in taking their place in their union, schools, profession, and community.

In WLTP, we'll help you find and nurture the leader within you through exercises, study, and presentations from proven leaders and fascinating special guests. You will:

- Learn how to join the fight for equitable, inclusive, fair, and just schools;
- Find your voice and discover your individual leadership style;
- Understand power, why we want it, and how it can be used to advance racial, social, and economic justice;
- Study intentional, structural change, including how it works and how you can make it happen; and
- Discuss the importance of school/community partnerships and how to create them.
